

Medicines don't perform
700%
better
at a hospital.

So why do some
hospitals mark
them up 700%?

According to a new analysis, nearly one in five hospitals mark up medicine prices 700 percent or more. Even worse? 320 hospitals in the study marked up prices more than 1000 percent. These hospital markups lead to higher costs for everyone — patients, employers and payers. For more answers, visit LetsTalkAboutCost.org.
